Such licences/leases are given by the concerned State Government. Hence question of applying for such rights to the Central Government does not arise.

P—Provisional

(c) No, Sir. The main reasons, identified for the mines not functioning to their full capacity is the high cost of mining at deeper levels and lack of demand in the International Market on account of substitutes from mica and its products having been developed.

(d) In order that mica mining can get a boost, the Government has modified the procurement policy for mica scrap and thereby encourage establishment of industries providing mica based value added products.
